

THE COLOR DENOTES QUALITY

The rich, wholesome gluten contained in Warner's Macaroni is derived from the choice Durum wheat from which it is made. Its pure yellow color is that of the grain—its goodness unimpaired by adulterations or coloring.

Warner's

is manufactured by a process that imparts a delicious flavor and insures easy cooking. When prepared it is always tender, savory and wholesome.

Specify Warner's when ordering macaroni. It costs you no more than other brands.

Warner's Macaroni is made in strict accordance with the requirements of the U. S. Food Administration.

WIFE DEAD ON FLOOR.

DeWitt C. Kring Found Her When He Returned from Journey.

Burlington, Sept. 20.—When DeWitt C. Kring, a traveling man who lives in this city, returned from a trip Wednesday afternoon, he found his wife, aged 30, lying dead on the kitchen floor. The room was filled with gas from a range and it was evident that the accidental leaving of a gas jet open had been the cause of the death.

The woman had been dead for only a short time, as the body was discovered about 3 o'clock and she had done up the work following the noon meal.

In another room, with a door shut between, was her three-month-old baby, unharmed. Mr. Kring has been a resident of this city for three years and his wife was a Brooklyn girl. They had been married less than two years.

WOUNDED MEN WERE VICTIMS

Americans in Clearing Hospital Killed by German Bomb

DESPITE SAFEGUARD
OF LARGE RED CROSS

Officers Say the Germans Deliberately Fired on the Hospital

With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Thursday, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press).—Eight Americans were killed when a clearing hospital was hit by a German shell on Wednesday night. Projectiles were dropped on two successive nights and finally a large tent where gassed patients were confined was hit.

A large red cross against a field of white had been laid on the ground before the hospital so that it could be observed by German aviators. Officers say the Germans were deliberately firing on the hospital.

AUSTRIA'S OFFER IS STILL OPEN

Baron Burian Says the Enemies of the Central Powers Are Too Rash in Their Language and Cannot Talk Peace Sincerely.

Amsterdam, Sept. 20.—Despite the apparent rejection of the Austro-Hungarian proposal for a conference of belligerents to discuss the possibilities of peace, that government's offer still is open, says an official statement received from Vienna today. The statement reads:

"From reports received from abroad, the rejection of the Austro-Hungarian government's suggestion that a preliminary discussion of the peace question be entered into can hardly be longer doubted."

"The official reply to Foreign Minister Burian's note has not yet been received, and therefore the reason which prompted the attitude of the governments of the entente cannot be discussed at present. Only from Secretary Balfour is an exhaustive discussion of our suggestion available. His arguments show how correctly Baron Burian's proposal judged the situation, and that only the adoption of Baron Burian's line of thinking could master the confusion of minds prevailing everywhere until today."

"The peace question as discussed by Secretary Balfour—and the same applies to the debates in the French and American Senates—under the pressure of big catchwords and over-mastering passion, can naturally make no favorable progress. Especially regarding Mr. Balfour's speech it must be pointed out that it contains a series of rash conclusions concerning the attitude of the central powers toward concrete peace questions which he would not have arrived at had he entered into a discussion in the spirit of Baron Burian's proposal."

"Only if discussed under conditions free from the influences of passion can the peace question make that progress which is the interest of humanity."

"The Austro-Hungarian government's offer still is open."

GERMANY READY FOR PEACE NOW

Saxony's Foreign Minister Says That European Kultur Is in Danger of Being Wiped Out.

Amsterdam, Sept. 20.—In speaking of the German aspirations at a banquet given by the town council of Leipzig in honor of Swiss guests, Count Von Vitzthum d'Eckstedt, the Saxon foreign minister, said:

"The reason for our readiness for peace is not a consciousness of weakness, but a sober recognition of the fact that endless prolongation of the war must lead to a collapse of European kultur. No pan-German politician, let alone any German statesman, has ever revealed in any speech such wild aims as to destruction as the official leaders of our enemies have done since the outbreak of the war, and are doing today."

"We know this paroxysm of hate is not a sign of real strength, but only designed to deceive neutrals and kindle the exhausted war passion of their own countries."

"When, however, for the same purpose, an American street rabble murders before the eyes of the authorities, and with terrible tortures, peaceful Germans and German-Americans in the United States, and their murderers are acquitted in the American courts, we have the right to criticize the interference of America."

"American order should be able to stand in comparison with American lynching kultur. We are no nation of wild conquerors. The government has no sympathy with pan-German demands, but we also are not a nation of slaves."

CENTENARIAN DEAD.

Patrick J. Griffin of Burlington Found Dead in Bed.

Burlington, Sept. 20.—Patrick J. Griffin, the oldest resident of Burlington, was found dead in bed yesterday at the home of his son, John S. Griffin, of 139 North Champlain street.

Mr. Griffin was 100 years old March 18 of this year.

He was born in Limerick, County Clare, Ireland, and each of his parents lived to advanced age. He came to America at the age of 40 years and after locating a short time in Hartford, Conn., came to Burlington, where he had since made his home.

Mr. Griffin was employed in the lumber yards of Shepard & Morse and Barnes & Davis until obliged to stop work on account of old age.

Mr. Griffin was also employed as a watchman by the city.

His first wife, whom he married in Ireland, was Miss Kate O'Brien. She died 45 years ago. His second wife was Ann Bartlett of New York, who died 30 years ago.

There survive Mr. Griffin, two sons, John S. of Burlington, Patrick J. of Waterbury, Conn., and one daughter, Mrs. Nora E. McCann of Boston. There are two grand children and five great-grandchildren. Mr. Griffin was connected with St. Mary's cathedral parish and was a member of the Holy Name society.

KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO.

Prof. L. A. Butterfield of Brattleboro Not Seriously Hurt.

Brattleboro, Sept. 20.—An automobile accident in which Prof. L. A. Butterfield of Washington street was knocked down and slightly hurt and one of the Red Cross girls was pushed over but not injured, happened about 10 o'clock yesterday near the main entrance to the Valley fair grounds.

A Ford, owned and driven by Hiram F. Newell of Surrey, N. H., with whom L. A. Fuller of Keene, N. H., was riding, jumped suddenly as it was being started, and as it was not directly in line with other cars it started toward a group of persons with the result as stated.

Prof. Butterfield was taken to the Memorial hospital, where it was found that he was hurt about one arm. From there he was taken home. Mr. Newell paid the hospital and doctor's bill and gave his address to State's Attorney W. R. Daley, agreeing to come here any time if wanted. He said his car sometimes acted as it did today.

Reasons Why Eggs Will Be Extremely High.

Last year up to May 1 eggs were put into storage at a cost ranging from thirty-one cents to thirty-five cents per dozen.

en; this season the cost ranged from thirty-five to forty cents. This means that the egg operators will push up the price of storage eggs, so that they can make a profit which, in turn, will advance the price of fresh eggs.

There is a certain disadvantage in this, owing to the fact that extremely high prices for fresh eggs greatly limit consumption because the public turns to substitutes.

Another reason for the high priced fresh product is that the government has put a limit on the amount of profit the egg operator can make on each dozen; and as soon as conditions arrive at which he can unload and make this restricted profit, the better for him.

For this reason, eggs have been moving from cold storage a month earlier than usual and in larger quantities which will mean greatly depleted cold storage stocks and a greater dependence on the fresh product this fall and winter when production is at its lowest point.

This affects every man, woman and child in Vermont, whether you are raising eggs to sell or just for home consumption, or whether you have to buy your own eggs. It should influence those that can to keep a few hens in their own backyard and avoid these high prices.

If more information is desired about starting into the poultry business, write to your county agent or the agricultural extension service of the University of Vermont and state agricultural college.

Crawford Ranges

Two Ranges in One—a Coal Range, a Gas Range—both combined in this Masterpiece—the Triple Crawford
